County, Rancho Cucamonga Partner to Extend Wilson Avenue

SAN BERNARDINO - A road extension project that could shave up to a minute off Fire Department response times to homes in northeastern Rancho Cucamonga got a boost from the Board of Supervisors Tuesday.

The Board agreed to provide the City of Rancho Cucamonga with $200,000 to fund an environmental impact report for the extension of Wilson Avenue between Milliken Avenue and Day Creek Boulevard. Second District Supervisor Paul Biane requested the funding for a partnership with the City during mid-year budget adjustments in November 2005.

"The Wilson Avenue extension project will provide better access for residents and emergency response personnel by closing a major transportation gap in northern Rancho Cucamonga," Biane said. "I'm proud the County and City are working together to pave the way for crucial transportation project."

In addition to the environmental study, the City can use the County funding for survey and design work related to the Wilson Avenue extension, according to the agreement.
